MİMAR SİNAN UNIVERSITY

İSTANBUL - TURKEY

MSGSU
Açık Bilim Sanat Arşivi

Mimar Sinan University is the oldest educational institution in Turkey that has offered programs in major fields of art since 1882. It was founded by Osman Hamdi Bey under the title of School of Fine Arts to introduce art education in western fashion in the country. In 1883, courses were available in Painting, Architecture, Sculpture and Engraving. In 1923, a Decorative Arts department was added, and in the same year, the school's name was changed to Academy of Fine Arts.

In 1969, eighty-six years after it was founded, the institution achieved a new status under the Academies of Fine Arts Act passed by the parliament that year and was renamed Istanbul State Academy of Fine Arts. In 1972, two nationalized private Schools, one of Architecture and the other of Applied Industrial Arts, were integrated with the Academy.

Istanbul State Academy of Fine Arts was the core around which Mimar Sinan University was founded on 4 November, 1981 in accordance with the Higher Education Act which came into effect that year. The University at present, consists of three faculties, two institutes for graduate studies, a conservatory, a vocational school, and a number of research centers. As it was set in its founding principles, Mimar Sinan University focuses on education and research primarily in the major disciplines of art and humanities besides certain areas of pure sciences.

AFFILIATED CULTURAL INSTITUTE

Istanbul Museum of Painting and Sculpture

Upon Atatürk's directives in 1937, Istanbul Museum of Painting and Sculpture was founded in the Crown Prince's quarters of Dolmabahçe Palace as the first fine arts museum in Turkey. At present, more than 2000 paintings, particularly from 19th and 20th century, and nearly 400 sculptures are exhibited in chronological order.

The museum, which possesses a rich collection of Turkish paintings and sculptures, displays the works of some world famous artists such as, Ayvasovsky, Belling, Derain, Dubois, Dufy, Lévy, Matisse, Picasso Pignon and Utrillo as well.

It also consists of a specialized department for 'Conservation' of the paintings and sculptures as well as another of 'Restoration' of damaged and worn pieces of art. An information archive is also available for art scholars.
